The seventh annual Jerry Wells Memorial Scholarship Halter Futurity for yearling Quarter Horses was held on Saturday, May 30, as a special World Conformation Horse Association event during the prestigious Oklahoma Quarter Horse Association's annual Redbud Spectacular Horse Show at the State Fairgrounds Arena in Oklahoma City.

Presenting sponsors were halter enthusiasts Steve and Kathy Headley, Bloomington, Indiana. Other sponsors were WCHA and Friends of Jerry Wells.

WCHA show requires certified WCHA judges. This year the judge was Jerri Harmon, Decatur, Mississippi.

After the classes for yearling stallions, geldings and fillies were completed, the first place winners of each class were returned to the arena to be judged for Best of Show. Two other WCHA judges, Wayne Halvorson, Guthrie, Oklahoma and Jason Smith, Whitesboro, Texas, were selected from the audience to place Best of Show.

Champion and Reserve Champions of each class were presented with trophies and Jerry Wells tote bags from Betty and all class champions were presented WCHA Champion halters. Exhibitors third place and below received Jerry Wells memorial medallions. Best of Show winner received a special trophy and a check for $1000. Every exhibitor was given a $100 bill in the arena. Ten gift certificates from Go Mag valued at $130 each were given away. Four WCHA sweat shirt hoodies were also given to exhibitors.

All Champions and Reserve Champions had their pictures taken with Betty Wells, her daughter Nancy Wells, the owners of the horse, the class sponsor and any friends and family. Photos were made by K C Montgomery.

In the breaks between classes, a dance contest was held, with specific music selected and dance named, and two $50 bills were awarded to audience members.

The Futurity had 19 horses making 35 entries this year. Numbers were down a bit from last year, no doubt due to our monstrous May weather. Total payout was close to $19,000.
